New Commercial Area Proposed at $60,000

A preliminary discussion of a proposed commercial development immediately south of Sierra Madre Blvd., between Baldwin and Hermosa, was attended by more than 30 persons at City Hall Monday afternoon.

The project, which would cost about $60,000, would be assessed to approximately 20 owners having property lines abutting the proposed commercial district.

It would include the purchase of several parcels of land, the removal of six homes and several smaller buildings, and the building of a new street.

The new development would allow parking space for 110 automobiles, sidewalks, and a passageway at the rear of the Safeway store, the new bank now under construction, and other business buildings in that section on the south side of Sierra Madre Blvd.

First draft of the map for this improvement, prepared by Gordon Whitnall and Associates who are drawing a new zoning ordinance for the City, is available for inspection at City Hall.

The zoning ordinance provides that business places should provide parking space for about 4 or 5 cars each, but Mr. K. Kalicka, representative of the Whitnall company, has said in previous discussions with the Planning Commission that a larger parking space, supported co-operatively by a group of business men adjacent, is the more efficient and economical method of handling the parking problem.

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington said that, among the 30 persons present at last Monday's meeting, it was his opinion that the majority were in favor of this important project, but objections were voiced by several.

Democrats Go 'Highbrow' at Local Meeting

The Sierra Madre Democratic Club went highbrow at its meeting Monday night. Mrs. Anne Cotter proposed that each monthly meeting discuss some problem of national or international importance, from basic rather than partisan points of view.

At next month's meeting the subject will be "Freedom of Speech and Internal Security," with Mrs. Cotter as leader, who suggested that the group read "On Liberty!" by John Stuart Mills and "Areopagitica" by Milton — published in 1644 — as statements of fundamental principles. There will be no lectures by experts but free discussion by all present, and everyone interested will be welcome.

The club named Dr. Kurt Mueller to represent it on the Congressional District Council's executive committee. It also elected Newell Barrett, Thomas Lathe, Mrs. Evelyn Sloman, Lee Shippey and Al Myers as a nominating committee.

"Day of Prayer" Scheduled Here

Sierra Madre's fifth annual observance of "The World Day of Prayer" will be conducted here Feb. 25 through the cooperation of four participating local churches whose members will meet at 10:30 a.m. on that day at the Trinity Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Raynor Smith is local chairman for the group which is sponsored by the United Church Women of the Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The program, later to be announced in detail, will consist of combined choirs, a speaker, and special music.

Symphony to Feature Local Violin Soloist

The San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony Orchestra will make its first appearance in the eastern San Gabriel Valley when it plays its fourth anniversary concert at Covina High school on Saturday evening beginning at 8 o'clock, according to Mrs. Mathilda Smith, Sierra Madre representative of the Community Advisory committee of the orchestra's Patrons' association, and supervisor of instrumental music for the Sierra Madre schools.

Woman Struck By Automobile On Boulevard

Another Sierra Madre pedestrian has been struck by an automobile in downtown traffic while crossing Sierra Madre Blvd.

On the boulevard that is no longer a "village street", Mrs. Alice Mary Jaeger, 75, was hit Monday night shortly before 7 p.m. by a station wagon driven by Alan Robert Hurwit, 17, as she attempted to make the crossing at the intersection of Auburn and Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mrs. Jaeger, whose home here is at 217 Ramona, was taken by ambulance to St. Luke Hospital where she was still unconscious at the time of reports yesterday noon. She is said to have suffered many injuries including skull, hip, and leg fractures.

Hurwit, who lives at 203 Santa Anita Ct., was not held. Police are continuing investigation.

The accident was the second major traffic mishap in Sierra Madre within less than 90 days. Harry Sharpe, former 86-year-old resident at the British Home here, died Nov. 9 a few hours after he was struck by a car at the intersection of Sunnyside and Sierra Madre Blvd.

Youths to Begin Scout Week Feb. 6 by Church Attendance

Scout Week will be observed from Feb. 6 to 13, according to an announcement by Frank Wright at the recent January meeting of the Mt. Wilson District of the Boy Scouts of America held at City Park. In observance of the national event Sierra Madre Boy Scouts, Cubs, and Explorers have been asked to attend some church service in full uniform Sunday, Feb. 6.

At the January meeting, called to order by District Chairman Marcus Woodward, Dr. Nathan Jacobs reported on health and safety activities and welcomed additional members to his committee. Edward Cook described the recent Court of Honor conducted at City School as well as the proposed unit Courts of Honor of Troop and Post 375 this week, Troop 376 Feb. 6, and Troops 374 and 377 Feb. 11.

Reg Barrett announced that the Mt. Wilson District now has enrolled 594 Boy Scouts and that five more Scout units are planned for the near future. Commissioner Leon Jenkins requested the approval of Egbert Embree, William Newbery, and Dr. Ralph Riffenburgh as members of his staff.

A Den Mothers' training course for the Cub groups, beginning at 9 a.m. next Tuesday at the Youth Hut, was reported by J. Ray Bowman. Bowman also told of a Scouter Course for Boy Scout Dads and leaders that will be conducted at City School Monday, March 14, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Others who reported for their individual units were the institutional representatives Henry Greger of Bethany Church, Eric Smith of the Church of Latter Day Saints, Karl Joehnck of Church of the Ascension, Don Warfel of St. Rita's Catholic Church, William Newbery of the Kiwanis Club, Lewis McClelland of the Congregational Church, Hermann Scholtz of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, and Paul Landwher and George Hannaford of the Lions Club.

Newell Barrett, past chairman of the Community Chest Drive, gave the results of the 1954 campaign. Financial status of the Council was reported by William NeSmith, public relations representative from the San Gabriel Valley Council.

Among the many names recorded by Secretary Richard Hartley, district Scout executive, were those of Herman Ohs and Ed Oliver, Post advisors for Scout Posts 371 and 378 respectively.

Will a Sierra Madre Woman Be the Next Mrs. America?

Who will be the next Mrs. America?

It may well be one of Sierra Madre's outstanding homemakers, according to plans revealed this week.

Arnold "Rocky" Rogstad, president of the Sierra Madre Exchange Club which sponsors the contest, has announced that any married woman over 21 years is eligible. The contest chairman is Ralph Burns, past president of the Exchange Club, who will be glad to supply complete details to anyone calling CUster 5-1244.

Advance plans call for a series of elimination contests throughout the state, culminating in the naming of Mrs. California at a final contest to be held in Los Angeles in April. The state winner, with her husband, will go to Ellinor Village, Ormond Beach, Flordia, for the national finals the second week in May.

Sierra Madre homemakers may obtain application blanks for the Mrs. America contest at their local appliance dealers, gas company offices and many supermarkets.

The Mrs. America contest is not a bathing beauty competition but a contest testing the homemaking abilities of the housewife. Personality and personal appearance will be important, but major emphasis will be given to housekeeping talents.

Mrs. America will receive more than $15,000 in prizes, while contestants in the Southland alone will vie for an additional $10,000 in awards.

The 17th annual Mrs. America contest is being conducted nationally under the auspices of the American Gas association and Mrs. America, Inc.

SIERRA MADRE SEARCH AND RESCUE CREW MEN SPEND LONG NIGHT IN MOUNTAINS

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew has done it again.

Five local members of the organization famous for its many mountain rescues in the past—Don Jackson, Fred La Lone, John Grippi, Earl La Lone, and Charles Kassler III — were among those who effected the discovery of Jules Ruggles of Arcadia early Thursday morning after he had been reported lost Wednesday in the deep snow along the crest of Mt. Wilson .

Ruggles had hiked up the Santa Anita Canyon Wednesday afternoon. When he ran into snow at about 3000 feet he kept going—nobody knows why. His wife notified the Temple City Sheriff's Substation and from there several rescue units were alerted. That was when the five Sierra Madreans of the Rescue Crew prepared themselves for an all-night search in the mountains.

Leaving Sierra Madre at about 9 p.m. Wednesday, the five worked their way into the mountain altitudes until they were pushing through snow that was waist high. Using walkie-talkies furnished by the Sheriff's office, they did their best to keep in touch with one another in order to form a "searching circle," although according to Jackson, the radio equipment was in poor working condition.

In the Newcomb Pass country, eight miles above Chantry Flats, the searchers found Ruggles in the snow on the Mt. Wilson ridge at about 7:30 a.m. He was not in good condition.

From the same area, Forest Ranger Ralph "Red" Shangraw and Bill Adams, owner of a packer's station at Chantry Flats, reached Ruggles, wrapped him in blankets, and strapped him into a stretcher to carry him where a helicopter could land.

The helicopter flew the shivering man to a hospital, where he recovered, and the rescuers tackled the risky job of working themselves back down the snowy slopes.

The five from Sierra Madre arrived home—exhausted, cold, but safe—at 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

Two New Burglaries Occur in Sierra Madre

Two more burglaries were committed in Sierra Madre over the weekend. Bedrooms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Avigliano, 678 Manzanita, were torn apart by a thief who stole a gold wedding band valued at $90 and a silver dollar dated 1920.

The second burglarly was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Jerchow, 51 E. Orange Grove, who reported miscellaneous items missing.

Gala Event to Be Staged at Anti-Polio Ball

"Come to the Woman's Clubhouse Saturday night and dance so that others may walk," urges Mrs. Julius Hammerschmitt, Sierra Madre March of Dimes chairman, in reference to Sierra Madre's first Anti-Polio Ball to be held from 8 to 12 p.m. this Saturday night at the clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Gary Thompson and his five "Sultans of Swing" plus vocalist Brenda Johnston are donating their musical services for the evening. Admission is open to all. The fee: a fifty cent minimum donation to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Hammerschmitt reports, "The dance is receiving marvelous community support. Several merchants have decided they would like to contribute door prizes. Civic Club members are indebted to Bob Osti of Osti's Landscape Nursery for volunteering to take over the entire job of decorating the clubhouse."

Exchange Club members will join Civic Clubers in greeting guests and March of Dimes corsages will be on sale at the door for the ladies. There will be a large bulletin board on which progress toward Sierra Madre's $4,000 March of Dimes campaign goal will be noted during the evening.

Mrs. Hammerschmitt says that as of January 19 over $1000, one quarter of the goal, had been received from coin card contributions only. Those who have not yet mailed in their coin cards are urged to do so.

Following the Anti-Polio Ball will be the annual "Mothers' March" scheduled for the evening of Jan. 31. This part of the campaign, sometimes known as

School Election Set for April 29

Sierra Madre will have a new tax election April 29. Its purposes will be, primarily, to increase revenues for the hiring of an additional classroom teacher, to increase the salaries of teachers presently employed, and to meet the increased tuition to Pasadena for Junior high school students.

These plans, disclosed at the Sierra Madre School Board meeting Monday evening, also included the need of raising new funds for improved heating and lighting equipment at City School.

The meeting, at which Board President Dr. Milton W. Valois presided, was adjourned until Feb. 14. At that date, the amount of the tax and its duration will be decided.

Before adjournment the resignation of Howell N. White, Jr., was accepted by the board members with regret. His resignation has been made necessary because of his moving with his family to Wallingford, Conn.

White, who has been a member of the school board—sometimes as president—since 1948, received a certificate of merit given him by Dr. C. C. Carpenter, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles County Schools.

White's successor will be appointed by the county superintendent's office, with recommendations made by the local board. His term, which was to expire in June, 1956, will be filled to that date by the appointee.

Another item on the board's agenda was a report by Dr. Carpenter who gave figures showing that 86 of the 114 school districts under his jurisdiction are in the process of increased tax elections beyond the 90 cent limit. Through this report it was made clear that school budget problems are widespread.

Survey for Community TV System Draws Public Veto

Councilman Lorne Pratt, reporting at City Council meeting last Tuesday evening, disclosed that the general public in Sierra Madre, even those in the areas "blacked out" to TV reception, are not much interested in backing a community non-profit organization devoted to the purpose of installing a master antenna system for catching clearer television signals.

Because the TV subject has become something of a major issue in Sierra Madre as the result of public agitation for the past two years, Councilman Pratt recently had volunteered to make a special study of the situation which "Joe Doakes", representing the general public, was making a hot and expensive one for City Council.

When the last in a series of individual bidders for the installing of a master antenna system failed to make the grade, Councilman Pratt received approval from City Council to make a public survey in Sierra Madre to determine whether Joe Doakes, who was doing so much complaining, was willing to tackle the community aerial job himself.

Councilman Pratt therefore sent 790 letters to residents north of Grandview, asking if they would endorse a master antenna system. As of Tuesday evening, only 174 had bothered to reply.

Of the 174, 90 Joe Doakes said to heck with it. Eighty-four voted yes for the antenna system, but only eight indicated a willingness to pay $150 for the installation fee. 30 persons bid $50 or lower. 21 said they were satisfied with the service provided by Edwin Meyer, of Meyer Television. A few said they wanted better TV reception at any price, but they obviously were the only rich uncles that Joe Doakes can count in his family.

Approximately 600 members of the theoretical community TV system, each paying $150 apiece, would be needed to finance the project. But even if the price could be reduced through larger community participation, the majority of Sierra Madreans apparently are not interested.

At those prices Joe Doakes has said, "No, thanks!"

LOCAL TV DEALERS

At the Council meeting, Pratt suggested that Meyer's Television Co. be licensed to install community TV systems. Councilman Roberts said he did not think Meyer should be kept in his present position indefinitely, indicating that his customers should be allowed to use his services if they wish.

In an interview with the NEWS, Eddie Sonnenfeld of Eddie's Television Co., said that he too had made surveys and appraisals on the installation of a master antenna system. As a local TV dealer, he wished to bid on any system supplied by the city or to provide antenna service to individuals.

Suzanne Thayer Weds W. H. Biely Tomorrow

Suzanne Thayer, whose engagement was announced last week, will marry Walter H. Biely tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in ceremonies conducted by the Rev. Donald H. Ostrander at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Thayer, 201 W. Carter.

Biely, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Biely, 414 Mariposa, is an electronic technician employed in Pasadena. After the wedding he will take his bride to Las Vegas for their honeymoon.

The maid of honor will be Marcia Murphy and the best man will be Jack Stratton.

Deadline for License Tabs Drawing Near

Motorists have just eight days, including today, to secure their 1955 license tabs — or, technically speaking, just seven and one half days. That's because one of those eight days, next Saturday is only a half day.

The deadline for renewing the registration on all types of vehicles is Friday, Feb. 4. After that, the law requires the State Department of Motor Vehicles to impose penalties on all late renewals.

Under the law the flat registration fee of $8 is doubled, and a penalty of 50 per cent of the license fee is added on renewals made after the deadline, according to Motor Vehicles Director Paul Mason.

Permanent branch offices of the Department of Motor Vehicles will be open to handle all types of renewals from 8 a. m. to 5 p.m. on week days, and until noon of Jan. 29, the final Saturday half-day of the registration period.

Temporary registration stations in banks in various parts of the state, open only during banking hours, are authorized to make renewals only upon presentation of the prepunched fee statement cards mailed from Sacramento.

Owners who failed to receive cards are still required to renew before the deadline, and may do so by presenting their 1954 white slips at any permanent branch office. Auto clubs handle all types of registrations for members only.

Fees remitted by mail must be postmarked not later than midnight Feb. 4.

Jewish Center To Celebrate Tercentenary

The Foothill Jewish Community Center, 212 N. Lima St., will celebrate the tercentenary of the establishment of the first Jewish community in America, with a musical evening Saturday, Feb. 26. The occasion will observe the "Silver Anniversary" of the Foothill Jewish Community Center as a spiritual force in the San Gabriel-Foothill area.

Its members, comprising residents of Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Monrovia, Duarte, Temple City, and Arcadia, are looking forward to making this program an outstanding success. Among the artists who will appear are Mrs. Ruth Attie, a foremost soprano from the concert stage; Mrs. Evelyn Schuck, who won fame as a solo-violinist on the Charlie McCarthy program; and Mr. George David, well-known on the Continent as a featured baritone with the Coventry Gardens Opera Company of London.

Because of the great expense of assembling these artists, there will be a nominal admission charge. The public is invited. A social hour will follow at which time refreshments will be served.

For further information call Mrs. Aaron B. Glaser, 365 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., CU. 5-3041, or Dr. Chas. W. Steckel, Rabbi, 3560 Cartwright, Pasadena, at CU. 5-1154.

Street Repair And Parking Stalemated

A temporary stalemate in the street improvements on Manzanita, Ramona, Fairview, Carter and Michillinda was encountered at last Tuesday's Council meeting. Paving of certain sections of these streets was approved by property owners last Nov. 23, after the City agreed to provide 1/3 of the cost. The City expected to obtain funds from State gasoline taxes, but recent letters from the County Road Dept. and the County Council indicate that gasoline tax funds may not be available for this purpose.

Taxes on gasoline collected by the State of California are apportioned to all California counties, which, in turn, allocate their receipts to their own municipalities. The latest ruling of the County Road Dept. and the County Council allows the spending of such funds only on streets which accommodate county-wide traffic.

City Council members expressed the opinion that this stipulation, if enforced, would give improvement eligibility from gasoline taxes only to Sierra Madre Blvd., Michillinda, and possibly Orange Grove Ave.

City Attorney Cornyn and City Administrator Bevington agreed to prepare for the two County departments a summary of Sierra Madre's vital importance to the County as a whole, requesting on this basis more favorable consideration.

PARKING DISTRICT

City Attorney Cornyn reported that the urgent need of parking space for Sierra Madre shoppers is meeting the delay of condemnation proceedings, which will be started soon. The total asking price of the three parcels of land to be bought by the City for parking lots is $54,000, against an appraised value of $40,300. Cornyn explained that condemnation suits require three months to complete and that no immediate solution of the City's parking problem can be expected.

40th Anniversary for Dr. George Groth, Sr.

George W. Groth, Sr., M.D., who observed his 40th anniversary in Sierra Madre this month, has issued a statement for the many who have known him throughout these years.

"January 22, 1955, completes forty years of permanent residence in Sierra Madre," Dr. Groth says, "and forty years of bulging memories. Nor can I yet regret the place of my choice. I thank you all for bearing with me, and hope that you will continue to do so even if my services are more or less limited to those like myself who have had too many birthdays. Again, thank you."

Dr. Groth, a native of Guelph, Canada, first came to the United States in 1913 and later finished his academic courses in the study of medicine at the California Eclectic School of Medicine.

Exchange Club Tabs New Men And Programs

Eugene Comstock, an engineer at Aero-Jet, and Don Jackson, owner of a local clothes shop for men, were voted into the Exchange Club by the club's Board of Control at its meeting last Thursday evening.

All members of the club have endorsed the "March of Dimes" campaign and are urging every Sierra Madrean to attend the "Anti-Polio Ball" at the Woman's Club Saturday night, Jan. 29. Two of the door prizes for the event are being donated by the Exchange Club in its efforts to help put the funds drive over the top.

One Year Old Ocelot Goes on Four Day Dog Chasing Spree

When a cat runs away from home to go on a four-day dog chasing spree, that's news. Not only was it news to the police who recorded the event this week, but it also was news to the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Embree, 214 W. Carter, who finally found the animal in the neighborhood.

The cat in question is a one-year-old Ocelot, name of Sultan, and although at present it isn't much bigger than a full grown house cat it thinks that chasing dogs of almost any size is the greatest sport in the world.

The Embrees reported Sultan missing because they were afraid someone might mistake him for a small leopard. Valued at $200, the animal would have made an expensive target for anyone with a gun who considered himself a big game hunter.

How was Sultan found? He was found while chasing a dog, naturally. He only wanted to play, to go in for a bit of wrestling or boxing, but the dog he chose ran home, thus leading Sultan to the neighbors who knew that he was AWOL.

What did Sultan use for nourishment during those four days? Better not ask.

Any dogs missing lately?

Tennis Courts Nearby Resurfaced Last Week

Sierra Madre tennis enthusiasts have been informed that, under the personal supervision of Gene Mako, former United States doubles champion with Don Budge, all eight tennis courts at Arcadia County park were resurfaced with work completed last week. Mr. Mako is now head of a contracting firm specializing in this type of construction.

The Arcadia County park courts, used last fall for part of Sierra Madre's tennis tournament, are annually the scene of outstanding tennis tournaments such as the National Public Parks Junior Tennis championships. In the past, certain criticisms from outstanding tournament players were directed at inferior court surfaces. The conditions giving rise to these criticisms have now been removed and Arcadia County park can look forward to hosting even bigger tournaments.

PTA Group Hears Foreign Songs at Inspiring Meeting

Those who attended the PTA meeting last Thursday were privileged to learn some interesting facts not only about the rest of the world but about the U.S.A.

While the sixth grade children's voices sang the different national anthems, students and flags of five nations were introduced on the platform. Miss Fumie Tateoka of Japan was first, and her eyes widened as she heard the song of her country sung in Japanese.

She was followed by Constantino Hurtig from Argentina who was pinch-hitting for Luis Velasco of Ecuador. Tranquilla Falcinella heard Lee Fish play the Garibaldi Hymn as a trumpet solo.

Hans Rau applauded at the end of Hayden's beautiful hymn sung in German and Nora Mokhtarian listened to the Iranian anthem for the first time in two years.

These young people, ambassadors without portfolio, spoke of their own countries, talking especially about education and schools.

Members of the audience later expressed the opinion that, through these students, they had not only learned more about other countries but also had been given a new insight into the spirit of America that offers friendship to all nations.

Boy Scout Notes

Members of local Sea Scout Ship 391 were invited to tour the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Pasadena Tuesday. There, after being inspected by the commanding officer of the training center, they saw some Navy films regarding the school of Close Order Drill.

They were shown several methods of practical navigation and rules of the road. They also were given some actual experience in close order drill by a Navy drill instructor.

The Sea Scouts and leaders who attended were Commander F. G. Clarke, skipper; Leonard Barrett, first mate; Danny Peterson, senior crew leader; Clark Marshall, Yeoman; Hank Polly, crew leader; Gay Frey, Bud Davis, Johnny Davis, Dennis Smith, Roland Finn, Pete West, Dick Spaulding, Dick Wilson, Bob Willis, and Leonard Landwher.

First Mate Barrett reports that the Sea Scouts are moving ahead at full speed, but there still are openings for new boys. Those interested may call CUster 5-0429 or CUster 5-9909.

Special Number for Traffic Emergencies

SACRAMENTO—The California Highway Patrol emergency telephone number "Zenith 1-2000" will be in use practically statewide by Feb. 1 according to an announcement released by the Patrol.

"This special service is designed exclusively for reporting traffic emergencies outside cities to the Highway Patrol," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell says. "There is no charge for the service even when the Patrol office called is in a toll zone.

"In order to keep the Zenith 1-2000 line open for real traffic emergencies, routine matters should continue to be reported in the usual manner using the regular telephone number assigned to the Patrol office in the area," Caldwell reports. This will enable the Patrol to handle emergencies more expeditiously.

"Motorists are urged to carry the emergency number on their persons or in their cars for ready reference. Additional information concerning this program may be secured from any Highway Patrol office," the Commissioner added.

"California is the first state to offer a statewide emergency service covering traffic emergencies."

Girl Scouts Notes

With the approaching Court of Awards as their goal, first year Girl Scouts of Troop 22 are rapidly completing their requirements for achieving Second Class Rank.

As a Troop, they satisfied the Community Service Requirement by helping to decorate the Sierra Madre float for the Rose Parade. Their International Friendship requirement was fulfilled by a visit to the home of Mrs. Hjordis Parker, noted lecturer on Norway and Sweden. Mrs. Parker showed one of her school films, depicting everyday life in Norway, and conducted a discussion afterward, with particular emphasis on the Girl Scout movement in Norway.

In order to complete the Homemaking requirement, the members met with Mrs. Charles Fretz and Mrs. Paul Tate, members of the Troop Committee, to learn the simple sewing techniques set up for this requirement.

Other requirements are being fulfilled by the Troop members individually in their own homes.

Fun has also been a part of the Troop's activities for this year, starting with a swimming-supper party at the first fall meeting; A Father-Daughter dinner early in November; and a Christmas party, with the traditional exchange of gifts and Christmas refreshments, held at the home of Barbara Tate, one of the Troop members; and their annual trip to the Pasadena Playhouse for the Christmas season presentation.

Mr. Henderson is a noted consulting engineer who, in recent years, has been called for advice by Los Angeles, San Francisco and other Coast cities and was one of those consulted about the new Navy submarine, the Nautilus.

But it is nature, not science, which brings him west this time. A "Stork Special" is expected.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

Editors' Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, who asks, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of The NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

Three weeks ago this column mentioned the fact that Congressional leaders were reported to favor an increase in the pay of Congressmen from the present figure of $12,500 a year, plus $2500 expense allowance, to $25,000 a year. Twenty-five thousand a year is better than $2000 a month, while many seasonal employees in the Forest Service get take-home pay of less than $200 a month, while ranger-naturalists in the National Parks Service start at $266 a month, out of which they must buy expensive uniforms and support their families in areas in which costs are high. My argument was that Congress should consider Forest Service, National Park and Postal employees before getting around to the hardships of Congressmen.

The following week I urged that our Legislature and the national Congress do something genuine and without loopholes about campaign expenses. I sincerely believe that the greatest menace to our democracy lies in the fact that nowadays it costs so much to run for office, unless one can secure contributions which, in many cases, put him under obligations. Any system which bars men of moderate means from competition is not democracy.

Clippings of both columns were sent to numerous members of Congress and the State Legislature. The first response came from Rep. James Roosevelt, who notes that the President has recommended pay hikes for Federal employees generally. "I hope that the leadership of Congress will not ask consideration of any other pay increases until those have been satisfactorily disposed of," he writes.

So do we all. But as I recall it, the present recommendations for pay rises for Federal employees generally are for only about a 5 per cent hike, while the Congressmen seem to think they should get a 100 per cent hike. Boys already getting $1000 a month shouldn't have 95 per cent more sympathy for themselves than for other "underpaid Federal employees."

The piece about campaign contributions brings a letter from Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, who says: "The accumulation of election code provisions on campaign contributions is due for a long overdue overhaul at this session. Provisions made in previous sessions were either not properly prepared or were handled by incapable men whose intent was more political than serious . . . It would suit me fine to have campaign contributions regulated with fairness to all . . . I shall appear before the elections committee of the Assembly and make my recommendations." Mr. Lanterman also speaks of the burden it is to have to run every two years, saying he favors a four-year term. He says he has nothing to do with either the collection or dispersal of campaign funds. He says he worked for improved methods as a member of the County Committee and adds that the control of union contributions also should be scrutinized.

It seems to me that every honest legislator should favor laws effectively controlling all contributions, and the only fair way is to put reasonable limits on what may be spent for any candidate, directly or indirectly. The fact that "provisions made in previous sessions were handled by men whose intent was more political than serious" is all too true . . . Let's hope this Legislature adopts a code which isn't full of loopholes.

Vignettes

by Virginia Pittinger

It was not long after Christmas in Brussels that a cold wave descended on us from the north and froze all the lakes in all the city parks.

Risty and I were on our way to the Bois de la Cambre to find a lake when we passed a large sunken pool in a park nearer home. From the street we could see no more than bright woollen heads bobbing about in tantalizing patterns, but the motion suggested only one thing—sliding on ice! So we parked our car and watched.

At first we stood on the sidelines. There were no other grown-ups about and I was reluctant to climb down onto the ice. But Risty refused to slide if I didn't, so we joined the children.

We found an uncrowded spot near the edge of the pool where we could make our first clumsy attempts in comparative security. But before long Risty had gone to longer and slipperier slides with "another little boy" and I was left on my own. By that time I was too intrigued with the ice myself to stop so I continued in my own small way until a young boy came up and touched his cap respectfully.

"Good afternoon, madame," he said in French. "We thought you might like to try our slide over there. This is very rough." He kicked at the ruts, then pointed to his own slide and I saw a smooth shining ribbon of ice that stretched clear across the pool.

I blanched and shook my head. "Uh-huh. I don't think I could quite handle that."

He was obviously disappointed, but he didn't argue. He went away.

A few minutes later he was back. "Would you like to try now, madame," he said, grinning at me and pointing again.

I looked and there along each edge of the slide from beginning to end he had posted other little boys who stood sturdily shoulder to shoulder, their hands ready to catch anyone who might need catching. It did look inviting, and I had once been undaunted by slides twice as long. So I thanked him and accepted his invitation.

Amid shouts and laughter I began the approach and took off gaily, wobbling a bit at first but gaining stability as I gained momentum until I finished the course in an upright blaze of glory. I must have been quite carried away by my success because I asked if I couldn't have one more turn. The boys agreed enthusiastically and I ran back to the beginning.

But when I turned to take off again, they were gone—all of them. And not only they but all the children on the ice were scurrying as hard as they could for the edges of the pool, leaving Risty and me alone, and bewildered.

Then I saw the policeman. He was glowering down on us from a rim of snow. "What are you doing there, madame?" His voice was hard.

"Oh—oh . . ." Suddenly I couldn't remember a single word of French.

"It is forbidden."

"Oh . . . " I took Risty by the hand and climbed up beside the policeman. "I didn't know," I stammered. "There is no sign."

"No matter. It is forbidden."

"But it is a shallow pool," I said, recovering a little from my shock. "And it must be frozen solid by now."

"Please, madame!" He was obviously trying to be patient. "It is forbidden because of the fish. We made holes here and there. Someone might fall through."

"I see. I didn't know. I'm sorry."

But the policeman had lost interest in us. He was glaring about the park fiercely. "It is an impossible thing. Those little devils. When I go, they return."

Then he stamped off toward the other side of the pool. Risty and I had started for our car when we heard a voice. "Psst—psst," it said. "Over here madame."

"It's that boy," Risty whispered. "He's in the bush over there."

We sauntered by casually. "Come in here, madame," we heard. "Soon the policeman will go away and we can slide again."

"Oh boy," Risty squealed. "Come on, Mom."

"But I couldn't do that," I protested.

"You did it before," the voice pointed out.

"But I didn't know then that it was forbidden. I know now and I can't do it."

"We know, but we do it."

"You shouldn't," I said without conviction. "But I cannot. I'm a mother and mothers must obey the law."

'I suppose so." The whisper faded. "Good-bye, madame."

Risty walked glumly by my side. "Let's go have some chocolate at the tea shop," I offered. "Would you like that?"

Risty sighed. "O. K. But I sure wish you weren't a mother!"

"The Prescott Proposals" at Playhouse Wins Big Applause

By E. N. VOORHEES

"The Prescott Proposals," at the Pasadena Playhouse until Jan. 30, is the theater's most exciting and substantial play of recent months, its action arising from an imagined but entirely believable situation in a commtee of the United Nations association in New York. Written by Lindsay and Crouse and starring Judith Evelyn, it is a convincing thriller showing how materialism and altruism, cruetly and human decency, battle for victory—specifically between Miss Evelyn as Mary Prescott, U. S. delegate, and Alexis Petrovsky, delegate from Moscow, played by Gregory Gay.

Daughter of a now deceased U. S. Minister to the former Republic of Czechoslovakia, Mary Prescott has proposed in this committee on agenda that the best way to settle differences is to concentrate first on "areas of agreement" between the nations, thus creating a harmonious approach to the tougher spots. She seems to have won the other five delegates to her idea, with the possible exception of the Moscow delegate, and she expects to present her proposal in a speech to the Assembly within the next two days.

Meanwhile, Elliott Clark, played by Russ Conway in the role of a respected and astute newspaper and radio commentator, who has known and admired her father, has been trying to persuade her to a radio interview the following evening, about her idea.

She is finally alone in the living room of her apartment, having let her maid go for her night off. Between answering phone calls, she is changing her costume in the bedroom to be ready to welcome the members of her committee who are coming for cocktails.

Suddenly a man enters the living room unannounced and when Mary emerges from her bedroom and faces him we learn that he is Jan Capek, delegate from Czechoslovakia, and that he had been her lover some 15 years earlier, when her father was minister to that country. Capek is now a very ill man and has come to her hoping for a sort of emotional absolution through reaffirming his love, in which she no longer shares, nor wants. Hurriedly she persuades him to leave.

He returns shortly and walks into her bedroom and while she goes to the living room to answer a phone call, he dies of a heart attack. Just then the guests arrive—the British Ambassador, the United Nations delegates from France and Pakistan, and, soon afterward, Petrovsky, whose secret agents have seen Capek enter the apartment building.

To his pointed gesture and questions, she admits that Capek is "in that room," adding "and he is dead." In spite of all his suspicious questioning about Capek's motive for the visit, Petrovsky finally agrees with the others to reveal nothing of what has taken place. Capek's body, as that of an ill person, is supported out to the Ambassador's car, in which, it is later reported, Capek died on the way home. His place on the committee is filled by his alternate, an obdurate person who seconds the now open efforts of Petrovsky to wreck the Prescott Proposals.

Elliott Clark, who has meanwhile been revealing a growing interest in Mary Prescott, plays a gallant trump card concerning her secret and wins her complete confidence. He also asks, in her presence, a certain question of Petrovsky that causes the Soviet delegate's better nature to rebel for one dramatic moment against the Party Line—just long enough to save Mary Prescott from scandal and confirm her contention that man's nature can and will triumph over all political systems that seek to enslave him. Both these incidents make top "theater."

Lighted with flashes of humor on national characteristics, the production has an outstanding cast of players.

Mrs. L. W. Rudbach Joins Sales Staff at Harry A. Lange's

Mrs. Lola Whitcomb Rudbach 272 E. Highland, has recently become a member of the sales staff in Harry A. Lange's real estate office.

Mrs. Rudbach was born in Friend, Neb., and came to Long Beach, Calif., as a small child. She attended school there and received her B.S. degree in business administration at the University of California at Berkeley. While in the North she was associated with I. Magnin Co. in San Francisco for six years.

She moved to Sierra Madre nine years ago with her children, Jana, 14, and Jon "Tony," 17, because she preferred our city to any place within a 40-mile radius of Los Angeles. Eight years of her time has been spent working for civic affairs, Cub Scouts, Campfire girls and teen-age dancing groups.

Mrs. Rudbach stated she "loves selling, particularly older homes, because of the feeling of security and stability given by an older house and the thrill of seeing a good old house rejuvenated and made beautiful again." She had experience in this line working with her father in Long Beach during the war.

According to Mrs. Rudbach, "It's easy to sell homes in Sierra Madre when one is as sold on a town as I am."

Monthly Meetings For Churchwomen

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Church of Our Redeemer, Methodist, recently met for the group's regular monthly meeting. A fellowship luncheon followed the morning's activities.

Mrs. Ethel Gossard presented the devotionals and the program chairman for the day was Mrs. Bess Phillips.

All women in the area are invited to attend these meetings which are held the second Friday of each month at 10 am. in the church parlor.

PASTOR'S "HAPPY BIRTHDAY"

Members of the Congregational Church surprised their interim minister, the Rev. Harry Leach, after church services last Sunday by showering him with birthday cards at an informal party when coffee was served in the south transept. The congregation also wished the pastor "Happy Birthday" with a selection of songs that included an impromptu composition by Dr. Raymond Pease, who played the piano.

Past Year for Bethany Was Big Success

Meeting in its official annual business meeting last Friday Bethany Church received a report from all departments that indicated a year of unusual success. Robert Everhart, church clerk, reported that after the accession of 65 new members the present membership figure is 345. These figures both establish new records in the history of the church.

Dr. Schaper pointed out that attendance figures in each department had also reached a new high, especially in the Sunday school, which last year averaged an attendance of 380 each Sunday.

The treasurers' reports were also significant. Bert Schultze, church treasurer, Mrs. Joe Maule, Sunday school treasurer, and Mrs. C. E. Ware, Missionary society treasurer reported receipts that totaled $53,836.01. Of this amount $15,957.35 was disbursed for Missions and nearly $18,000 came in for the building fund. The general fund received and disbursed over $17,000.

The budget for the general and Missionary funds for 1955 was presented and approved. A report also was received from the finance committee of the building program. The committee has tentatively set April 1, 1956 as the date for beginning construction, if a minimum of $25,000 can be raised by that time.

News of the Churches

Rev. Smith's Subject Will Be "Divine Magic"

"Divine Magic" will be the theme on which Rev. Raynor Smith will preach at both the 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. worship services at the Methodist Church next Sunday. The sermon will relate an adventure that began with a funeral. It will tell of something that is free, but not cheap.

"The Boy Who Stoned the Missionary" will be the story for children at the 9:30 a.m. service. Mr. James R. Bowman will sing a solo at the 11 a.m. service. Church school classes for children of all ages convene at 9:30 a.m. Every parent is invited to make religious education an integral part of children's training this new year.

"Your West In Color" will be the program tonight at Family Night. Covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. All members and friends of the church are invited.

The official board of the church will meet Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at 8 p.m. All commissions will meet at 7:30 p.m. The building committee will present its suggestions for a master plan for the church development program at the general business meeting at 8 p.m. All members of the church are invited to be present for comment and approval of a plan of procedure.

The executive committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at 10 a. m. Friday, Feb. 4, in the lounge.

Gratitude to God Is Theme

Through gratitude to God, all can gain a clearer sense of God's tender ever-presence. This is a leading point in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Love" in all Christian Science churches.

It is recorded by Luke (17:15, 17) that when Jesus healed the ten lepers, "one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God . . . And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?"

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more." She defines gratitude when she says, "Of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed, but one returned to give God thanks,—that is, to acknowledge the divine Principle which had healed him." (pp. 3, 94)

The Golden Text is from Psalms (36:7), "How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings."

Bethany Youths Enjoy Saturday Snow Sports

Approximately 75 young people of Bethany Church left early Saturday morning by bus to spend the day in the snow at Mt. Waterman. Skiing, tobogganning and sledding, along with other of the various winter sports, filled the day with much fun and evcitement.

The groups in attendance included the Junior High, High School and Campus Departments. Rev. Raeburn Woodson, co-sponsor of the high school, was in charge of the trip.

Congregational Women To Meet at Luncheon

The Womens' Fellowship of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church will hold it's monthly luncheon at 12:30 p.m. next Tuesday, Feb. 1. The speaker will be the Reverend James More, minister of the Plymouth Congregational Church in Los Angeles since 1929.

The Rev. More was the official delegate of the Congregational "Southern Conference" attending the World Council of Churches held at Evanston, Ill., last year. His topic will be "The Evanston Meeting."

Mrs. Margaret Schwartz will lead in the devotions and Mrs. Louise Kortkamp will be luncheon chairman.

Local Church Brings in New Musical Team

Stewart Matter of Sierra Madrea is the new choir director at the Congregational Church, with Mrs. Elizabeth L. Farrow as the organist.

Mr. Matter taught journalism and creative writing for five years at the Cleveland College and was on the music staff of The Cleveland Plain Dealer for twenty years. He was also choral and orchestral conductor in Cleveland for various groups.

For the past several years he has directed the Community Chorus here in Sierra Madre and was choir director at the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Farrow was organist, six years, for the Episcopal Church here in Sierra Madre before becoming histologic technician at St. Luke Hospital in Pasadena. She was assistant organist several years for St. Mark's in Altadena and accompanist for rehearsals of the local Civic Chorus.

The retiring organist is Charles Oldham of San Gabriel, who has been the organist-director at the Congregational Church since last September. Prominent in music circles throughout this area, Oldham played cello with the Pasadena Civic Orchestra for several years and later served as organist and musical director for the Catholic cathedral in Yokohama, Japan. New developments in his career forced him to withdraw from his local church work.

There will be major choral work here during Holy Week, according to Mr. Matter.

At the choir rehearsal last Thursday, the following officers were elected: President, Roy Pickett; secretary-treasurer, Miss Irene Snell; librarians, Mrs. Paul Cline and Miss Cathy Franco.

'Where Do We Go?' Asked by Rev. H. Leach

Answering the question, "Where De We Go From Here?" Rev. Harry P. Leach of the First Congregational Church, declared last Sunday that Christianity is a way of life, a mode of behavior.

"It makes little difference" said Mr. Leach, "to what church you belong or what creed you recite. If you are facing and moving in the direction of Christ, you are Christian. You may not have traveled far, but it is the direction you are facing that counts."

In apostolic times the Christian movement was known as The Way. Jesus spoke of himself as The Way. When our feet are standing along The Way and we are moving even slowly in the direction of Christ we belong to the Christian fellowship, such as General Grant telling Lee at Appomatox to keep their horses for the spring plowing; John Hay returning the Boxer indemnity for Chinese education; Albert Sweitzer healing the bodies and enlightening the minds of his fellow man in the Congo to "pay his debt to humanity"; Frank Laubach teaching millions of illiterates around the world; Rockefeller giving 20 million dollars to our seminaries for better training of ministers; Gagawa preaching the Gospel in the slums of Tokyo.

All this is Christianity, for Christianity is a way of life and when this Way dominates a man's career he is Christian.

In developing his theme, Mr. Leach used as examples Abram and Lot. Lot pitched his tent toward Sodom, an unsavory place but where the things he coveted were to be acquired. He took his wife and daughters there in spite of Sodom's reputation and lived to see his home life turn to gall and bitterness and his daughters shameless and profligate.

Abram on the other hand "went out not knowing whither". He followed a higher impulse. "He looked for a city that hath foundations whose builder and maker was God. Abram was one of a long procession of spiritual adventurers, breaking a path for all to follow."

Mr. Leach concluded by citing the Apostle Paul who also went out from the comforts and privileges of his Rabbinical estate to put his feet on The Way. So also did the Pilgrims who left England, all to be judged, not by their success or failure but by the direction of their lives.

Bethany Group To Assemble All Day Feb. 1

The Bethany Missionary society will be meeting all day Tuesday, Feb. 1, beginning at 10:45 a.m. in Bethany church. The 11 o'clock speaker will be Mr. Max E. Zimmerman of the Immanuel Mission to Shut-Ins, Inc. This work was founded in 1937 in Los Angeles and its purpose is to "Reach All the Unreached for Christ in Their Own Language." The organization has workers in Africa, India, Mexico, China and also in several states of the United States. The workers are all doing a labor of love in an evangelistic, undeonminational, evangelical faithwork in hospitals, sanatoriums, old people's homes, rest homes, veterans' hospitals, jails and boys' camps and wherever there are shut-ins.

There will be a short business meeting at 1:15 and 1:30 p.m. when the following speakers will be introduced: Miss Darlene Anthens, an accepted candidate of the China Inland Mission, who leaves for Singapore in February where she will attend the language school prior to her designation to one of the C. I. M. new fields in the Far East;

Miss Elizabeth Wimer, who had three terms of service in China. When the Communists invaded that land she went to Japan where she worked three years;

Mrs. Wilda Mathews, who went to China in 1933 and spent two terms of service in the northwest of China. After the Communist occupation she, with her husband and child, endured much hardship and privation at the hands of the Communists and was one of the last four C. I. M. missionaries to come out of China;

Miss Hilda Riffel, who had two terms of service in China and returned to this country in 1951 eight months after the fall of Shanghai. She is now doing secretarial work in the office of the China Inland Mission in Los Angeles.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these interesting sessions and to stay for a covered dish luncheon at noon. A nursery for babies and small children will be open all day.

Bi-Monthly Meetings at Don Benito For Members of Woodcraft Rangers

The Woodcraft Rangers, under the leadership of Louis J. Pollock, Howard C. Horn, Lloyd Beck, and Charles E. Harrison, meet every other Thursday evening in room 200 at Don Benito school at 7 o'clock.

The Woodcraft Rangers receive most of their financial aid from the Community Chest Recreation Program. The local group are a "Little Lodge" with ages ranging from 7 to 11 years. When the members reach their eleventh birthday they will become members of a "Big Lodge."

The meetings follow a pattern of an Indian ceremony. They begin with an open call to council by the chief. Following the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the members participate in the "Law Ceremony" which is the recitation of the principals the boys believe in, beauty, truth, fortitude, and service. This is done around a fire which has been built in the form of a cross. The Fire Keeper lights the center fire and then as each end of the cross is lighted, the boys recite the "Laws."

During the business meeting the "Ranger Reports" are given. At this time, the boys report on various activities they have participated in since the last meeting. The "Claiming of Coups" comes next. For the Rangers, the Coups are comparable to the merit badges given in scouting. The business meeting is recessed for tribal activities which might be the playing of games or the working on handcrafts. To close the meeting, the Rangers join in a circle and say an Indian prayer and then march silently out of the meeting with their arms folded.

The officers for the group are Ralph Thorgrimson, first chief; Bill Carr, second chief; Brett Horn, tally keeper; Dennis Doherty, wampum keeper; and Jamian Pollock, Indian runner.

Other members are Ross Burke, Gary Giangregorio, Bruce Beck, Billy Behr, Don Carr, Charles Cowen, Pat Doherty, John Bubois, Cort Farmer, Chick Harrison, Chet Horn, Kim Horn, Richard Scurr, Jon Shipman, Jay Binns, John Wardlow, Regan Cozanga, and Dave Stewart.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Lundin, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Lundin, arrived to take part in the evening's fun.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

It's Good To Be Here

Probably more people visit the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C. each year than any other shrine in America.

A caretaker has stated that unlike many places where the sightseer makes a casual inspection and then moves on, those who come to the Lincoln Memorial linger, and seem loath to leave, as though they were in the presence of the Great Emancipator himself. They seem as children who linger in the presence of someone they trust and in whom they confide. Their very demeanor indicates that they feel "it's good to be here."

The church can be such a sanctuary in your daily life and provide the feeling of comforting assurance and confidence that the Lincoln Memorial seems to provide many of its visitors. Use the church of your choice regularly and often. Rely on it for a place of comfort and refuge from daily worries and trials. It can become a place where you feel "it's good to be here."

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Now you Know!
The Answers to Everyday Insurance Problems
By HARRY A. LANGE

QUESTION: When we were on a picnic last summer we narrowly escaped having a skunk get into our car. I've often wondered if our insurance would take care of us if the skunk had made the inside of our car unfit for human use.

ANSWER: Believe it or not there is just such a case on record and the Company which wrote the Comprehensive Insurance paid to have the car re-upholstered.

Howell White Family Plan Eastern Home

Two citizens prominent in the growth and development of Sierra Madre's civic affairs since 1939 are leaving Jan. 31 for a permanent residence in Connecticut. They are Mr. and Mrs. Howell N. White, Jr., 68 E. Mira Monte, who are known by many here for their work on the Public School Board, their assistance in originating the Sierra Madre Community Nursery school and activities on the Coordinating Council.

Mr. White, who has been a purchasing agent for Fletcher Aviation for almost five years, is moving into the job of purchasing agent for the Revere Corporation of America, manufacturer of precision instruments for aircraft and industry, in Wallingford, Conn. Although they have much to happily anticipate in their new move they have expressed their regrets in leaving Sierra Madre, the town which White first discovered as a bachelor in the mid-thirties when he came here as a magazine writer with his dog, "Chico."

"Chico"—a harlequin great dane—and his master were a familiar sight to the "Old Timers" here in those days and for that reason White became associated with the long established families here to such an extent that he became known as an "Old Timer" far beyond his young years.

Since he and his wife, Mabel, established residence here in 1939 they have reared four children—Eleanor, 14; Fred, 10; Martha, 9, and Rusty, 5. All will accompany them in their new move except Eleanor who will stay at Anokia to finish her school as a boarder until she joins them back East next summer.

White, who first served the School Board here in 1946, also was president of the board for three years besides being active on the Coordinating Council. Mrs. White was one of the original group that organized the Sierra Madre Community Nursery school which completed its first building in April, 1947. She served as president of the school in 1948 and 1949.

During their residence here they have visited the senior Whites several times at Lake Wononscopomic, Conn., which is in the northwest section of the state about 50 miles from Hartford.

White, senior, formerly was a Latin professor at Hotchkiss, Conn.

the "Porchlight Parade" because citizens are asked to turn on their porch lights at that time, is locally in charge of Mrs. Rocky Summers, Jr.

As in previous years, the "Mothers' March" will be the finale of the January "March of Dimes" with more than 100 county communities joining Sierra Madre in the drive.

Last year a total of $2000 was raised by Civic Club members and other volunteers to help fight polio, according to Mrs. Summers.

"The 'Mothers' March' is essentially a women's community group project," she says. "In previous years, it has accounted for a sizeable portion of the total amount raised by the 'March of Dimes'."

EXCHANGE CLUB From page one

The club also "has accepted the pleasant responsibility" of promoting Sierra Madre's participation in the national "Mrs. America" contest.

Twenty-two members attended the Thursday meeting, and Dr. Don McCormack received congratulations for his 100 per cent attendance since the organization's beginning one year ago.

A motion picture about big game hunting in Alaska will be part of the program at the club's meeting tonight.

first violin section, will be heard in a solo, 'Praeludium and Allegro," by Kreisler. The 75-piece orchestra will present a varied program under the baton of Harold H. Scott, including the Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart; Melodies by Haydn; "Bohemian Girl," selections by Balfe; a novelty number, "The Waltzing Cat," by Leroy Anderson; and the Bach Suite in B Minor for Flute and Strings, with Martha Jane Lowe, flutist. Other solos will be played by Gordon Ramsey, El Monte violist, and Norman Perry, Pasadena bassoonist.

Peter Rogers Elected Squadron Commander

Peter V. Rogers, 100 Suffolk, has been elected commander of the new Pasadena chapter of the U. S. Power Squadron. Purpose of the squadron is to train both men and women in seamanship in skills that include handling yachts, the study of the science of navigation, and cooperation with government agencies charged with the enforcement of navigation laws.

Meeting with more than 100 former members of the Los Angeles chapter of the U. S. Power Squadron in Pasadena last week, other Sierra Madreans interested in seamanship, some of whom own their own craft, were Dr. Milton W. Valois, Instructor Bob Nash, Dr. Jack Paschall, Fred Edmunds, Loren A. Moffet, and Instructor Art Ritterrath.

Any Sierra Madrean who is interested, whether he owns a boat or not, may attend the classes in elementary seamanship and piloting which begin at Pasadena City College Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Self-confidence is a good trait, but be sure you are in a position to back it up.

Mrs. Mary G. Wilt Returns to City

After an absence of eleven years Mrs. Mary G. Wilt, a teacher of English at Manual Arts high school in Los Angeles, and her family have returned to Sierra Madre and are making their home at 946 W. Sierra Madre. A daughter, Marjorie, is attending college, and a son, Dr. Verne Wilt, is practicing dentistry. Dr. Wilt is newly married and his bride is the former Pat English of Palm Springs.
